

- "A modern desktop application built with Python and CustomTkinter that allows users to add text or image watermarks to their photos. It provides full customization for font, size, color, transparency, and position, making it simple to protect images with a professional touch."

